Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA)

In addition to the federal FMLA, New Jersey law also provides for unpaid family leave. New Jersey's Family Leave Act provides an eligible employee with 12 weeks of unpaid leave (without continued group health plan coverage) within a 24-month period, rather than a 12-month period as provided in the federal FMLA. The 24-month period is measured from the date when your first family leave begins.

Under New Jersey law, you are eligible for Family Leave if you have worked at least 1,000 hours in the prior twelve-month period, rather than 1,250 hours as provided in the federal Family and Medical Leave

Eligibility

To be eligible for FMLA leave, an employee must have been employed by The Center for Family Support:

1. For at least 12 months (which need not be consecutive),
2. Must work at least 1000 hours during the 12-month period preceding the leave start date.
